

Position: Director of Materials Management

Stewardship Ontario is seeking candidates for an exceptional opportunity to join our team.

Stewardship Ontario began in 2003 by developing and providing financing for the Blue Box household recycling program. Today we are operating a complex reverse logistics operation managing end-of-life materials. We're proud that the programs created and managed by Stewardship Ontario touch the lives of Ontarians every day.

The opportunity

We are seeking an experienced professional with 10-15 years in the waste management or recycling field to fill a newly created leadership role in our organization. Reporting to the VP Operations, the Director of Materials Management will be responsible for ensuring that we have the necessary talent and resources to optimize our collection, transportation and processing activities to manage and continuously improve the performance of our waste diversion services.

The right candidate is able to perform and thrive in a high-pressure, entrepreneurial environment that demands strategic thinking, decisive action and a skilled approach to building consensus among diverse stakeholders. Salary is commensurate with experience and includes a competitive incentive plan and benefit package.
